Are you looking for ways to get your students to improve their research skills? Would you like your students to see a demonstration of how to use the catalog to find information, or even how to request materials to be sent from the Michelle Smith Performing Arts Library in College Park? I am available to visit your classroom for a demonstration or in your office for personal research use. If you prefer, I can also book a library classroom for your students to work with me right in the library. I can customize my handouts and presentation to focus on a particular aspect of theatre, if desired. Feel free to contact me through any of the methods noted on the sidebar. It is not too early now to make an appointment for me to visit your class in the Spring 03 semester.

Reference Help is Available with the Click of Your Mouse

Cook Library offers an electronic alternative to calling the Reference Desk for answers. Faculty, students and staff can use this option located on the Cook Library Homepage. Look in the "Go directly to" ...menu on the bottom of the page, click on "E-mail a reference question," and you'll find a handy form for composing your question. Questions are usually answered within 24 hours. This service is best suited for brief, factual questions that can easily be answered via e-mail.
